To my father, Franklin Muchunku, thank you so much for your mentorship every single evening while sharing dinner together as a family. I never knew what you were doing by then. But right now, I flash back and remember every talk you shared and those words have made me who I am today. To my Mum Ruth Muchunku, your unending effort to inspiring not me alone, but all the siblings and the larger community to strive and achieve better academic performance is what has made us as a family who we are today. You are the greatest woman who has achieved her goals and visions I know. You have lived your life well and walked your talk. And I am simply your product of positive talk. Nothing can ever repay you. You are a blessed woman.

To my beloved sister Fridah and her hubby Isaac Wafula, you are pure love in my life. No more words can ever be written about who you are. Just four letters word for you- LOVE. The family of my brother, Eng. Daniel Mwenda and Dr Idah Mwenda, your support and generosity in time of need was valuable. God bless you more. To my brothers; Sam, Peter, Wilfred and Dickson, many thanks.

To my mother in law, Ms Dorothy thanks so much. Your encouragement, love and support in various ways have made all this success possible. Words cannot express the gratitude that I have for you. I give God all glory. I am just amazed of your humbleness. God bless you a hundred fold.

CHAPTER ONE

Attaining Higher Financial Prosperity

This approach really requires a combination of several skills towards achieving financial freedom. These ideas are limited to my knowledge only and do not express all the financial wisdom that exists from other great minds as contained in many other books of wisdom.

Every day, constantly keep asking yourself what you can do extra to earn more income from what you are already doing. The idea is not to be comfortable with how much you are always earning. I recommend every time be contented with how much you have and are getting, however this does not mean that you get satisfied with what you have. Find out how you can have more while being contented with what you have. It's such a crazy balance and can possibly be attained. The more you dwell on asking yourself mentally, how you can achieve greater financial success; more ideas will keep flowing and popping through your mind. This is the essence of it all, the greatest world wonders and achievement have been achieved by ordinary people who chose to think differently. Ideas are conceived and created by the human mind. Look around your surroundings and everything that your eyes can see, was first an imagination in the brain of whoever dared to act on
